COMPLAINT OF KEITH SPENCER

(Memorandum of Points and Authorities attached hereto)

Date: July 25, 2008

Time: 1:30 p.m.

Crtrm.: 10

TO THE HONORABLE DANA M. SABRAW, UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT on July 25, 2008 at 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard in Courtroom 10 of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, located at 940 Front Street, San Diego, CA 92101-8900, Defendant First Federal Bank of California ("First Federal") will, and hereby does, move the Court for an Order dismissing the "Civil Complaint/Affidavit of Information" ("Complaint") of Keith Spencer ("Spencer").

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that First Federal requests that no appearance be necessary unless specifically ordered by the Court.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I.

3 INTRODUCTION

4 First Federal Bank of California ("First Federal") seeks to dismiss the Complaint of 5 Keith Spencer ("Spencer") with prejudice. The so-called "Civil Complaint Affidavit of 6 Information" ("Complaint") of Spencer against Defendant First Federal Bank of California
7 ("First Federal") and others is the latest in a series of frivolous lawsuits filed with respect
8 to the real property more commonly known as 1224 Weaver, San Diego, California, (the 9 "Property"). The Complaint seems to borrow its disjointed reasoning, form and language
10 from an ever-growing group of form lawsuits brought by pro se litigants against California 11 lenders.

12 On or about June 9, 2005, Catherine Pope ("Pope") borrowed money from First 13 Federal in the amount of $431,000.00. The funds were secured by a deed of trust covering 14 the Property (hereinafter the "First Federal Deed of Trust"). (Request For Judicial Notice, 15 Exhibit "A"). Pope failed to make the payments owed to First Federal, resulting in First 16 Federal's filing a Notice of Default on or about February 8, 2007. (Request for Judicial 17 Notice, Exhibit "B"). Thereafter, on June 14, 2007, First Federal foreclosed upon the 18 Property and at the foreclosure sale, First Federal acquired lawful title to the Property.
19 (See Trustee's Deed Upon Sale, San Diego County Recorder Doc. No. 0401580 , Exhibit
20 "C" to RJN.)

21 Plaintiff Spencer was never a borrower of First Federal. Spencer has never owned
22 the Property. Rather, Spencer suggests that he purchased the Property from an entity
23 known as "Seminole Mortgages" in April 2008. However, this occurred long after First 24 Federal acquired lawful title through the Foreclosure Sale. Further, the Complaint fails to 25 allege any facts which show that First Federal has any relationship with Spencer or could 26 have damaged Spencer. None of the facts in the Complaint implicate First Federal in any 27 sort of wrongdoing; in fact, First Federal is not alleged to have taken any action at all with 28 respect to these allegations. First Federal owns the Property and is therefore entitled to its

1 possession. As a matter of law, a foreclosure sale extinguishes all junior interests,
2 including possessory interests.

3 A. Similar Cases in the California

4 Spencer's Complaint bears all the hallmarks of a recent wave of substantially
5 similar frivolous form complaints which have been brought against lenders by pro se
6 litigants. (See Pope v. Countrywide, et al., 07 CV 925, Exhibit "D" to RJN.) First Federal 7 first became aware of this pattern after a complaint filed by Charlotte Sneed. Multiple 8 plaintiffs have filed substantially similar complaints in the Southern District of California,
9 each of them relying on similarly invalid points of law, and each using almost identically
10 indecipherable jargon. (See Sneed v. Chase Home Finance LLC, et al., 07 CV 729,
11 Complaint attached as Exhibit "E" to RJN; Belle v. Chase Home Finance LLC et al., 06
12 CV 2454, Complaint attached as Exhibit "F" to RJN; Ashley v. First Federal Bank of 13 California, et al., 07 CV 2123, Complaint attached as Exhibit "G" to RJN; and, Ramos v.
14 First Federal Bank of California, et al. 07 CV 06494, Complaint attached as Exhibit "H"
15 to RJN.)

16 In each of these complaints, including the present Complaint, the plaintiffs string
17 together various allegations such as securities counterfeiting, cite to existing and fictitious
18 international treaties (including the Treaty of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration 19 of Human Rights, and the International Bill of Rights), and seek the enforcement of 20 criminal code provisions against lenders. Likewise, these complaints are all virtually 21 incomprehensible. All of them have been dismissed.

22 These cases were dismissed due to deficiencies. (See Order Dismissing First
23 Federal from Sneed, Exhibit "I" to RJN; Order Dismissing Pope, Exhibit "H" to RJN;
24 Order Dismissing Belle, Exhibit "J" to RJN, Order Dismissing Pope, Exhibit "K" to RJN, 25 and, Order dismissing Ramos, Exhibit "L" to RJN.) While First Federal recognizes that 26 this Court is not bound by these decisions, it respectfully requests the Court to consider
27 them as persuasive authority given the similarity of these frivolous cases. Spencer's
28 Complaint is similarly flawed, but unlike these complaints, Spencer is not even a borrower.

1 In addition, Spencer has never owned the Property.

2 B. Spencer's Claims

3 Spencer's claims are conclusory, nonsensical, and do not work with the facts he has 4 alleged to support his legal theories. Spencer, as a private citizen, has no standing to bring
5 many of his claims against First Federal, such as a request for a grand jury investigation.
6 Further, most (if not all) of these claims are not cognizable as a matter of law. Spencer has 7 failed to allege the existence of any contract between himself and First Federal, on any 8 cognizable wrongdoing on the part of First Federal. Because Spencer fails to articulate 9 any coherent claim for relief, the Complaint must be dismissed.

10
11 II.

12 SPENCER FAILS TO MAKE SPECIFIC FACTUAL OR LEGAL ALLEGATIONS

13 UPON WHICH RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED

14 A. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8.

15 A complaint must contain "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that 16 the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. Rule Civ. Proc. 8(a)(2). The Rule also requires that 17 each claim be "simple, concise, and direct." Fed. Rule Civ. Proc.(e)(1). These rules ensure 18 that a complaint gives fair notice to defendants and states the elements of the claim plainly
19 and succinctly. Jones v. Community Redevelopment Agency of City of Los Angeles, 733
20 F.2d 646, 649 (9th Cir. 1984.) A complaint fails to give fair notice when it is "so verbose, 21 confused and redundant that its true substance, if any, is well disguised." Corcoran v.
22 Yorty, 347 F.2d 222, 223 (9th Cir. 1965).

23 B. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6)

24 A Complaint is appropriately dismissed when it "appears beyond doubt that the 25 plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which would entitle him to relief."
26 Levine v. Diamantheset, Inc., 950 F.2d 1478, 1482 (9th Cir. 1991). A complaint may be
27 dismissed as a matter of law for two reasons: (1) lack of a cognizable legal theory, or (2)
28 insufficient facts under a cognizable theory. Robertson v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 749

EPPOET, RICHMAN & ROBBINS, LLP

 LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90067-2512
 TELEPHONE (310) 785-0885 • FACSIMILE (310) 785-0787

F.2d 530, 534 (9th Cir. 1984). In reviewing a motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6), the court must assume the truth of all factual allegations and must construe them in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Gompper v. VISX, Inc., 298 F.3d 893, 895 (9th Cir. 2002). However, conclusory legal allegations and unwarranted inferences are insufficient to defeat a motion to dismiss. Ove v. Gwinn, 264 F.3d 817, 821 (9th Cir. 2001).

A Rule 12(b)(6) motion may take into consideration the exhibits and matters subject to judicial notice, and how they refute conclusory allegations of a complaint:

The court need not...accept as true allegations that contradict matters properly subject to judicial notice or by exhibit. Nor is the court required to accept as true allegations that are merely conclusory, unwarranted deductions of fact, or unreasonable inferences.” Sprewell v. Golden State Warriors, 266 F.3d 979, 988 (9th Cir. 2001).

C. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(e)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(e) authorizes a defendant to move for a more definite statement if the complaint "is so vague and ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably be required to frame a responsive pleading[.]" Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(e). A complaint must provide the defendant with a sufficient basis to frame a responsive pleading. Federal Sav. and Loan Ins. Corp. v. Musacchio, 695 F.Supp. 1053, 1060 (N.D. Cal. 1988). Generally, the court will require a more definite statement when the pleading is "so vague or ambiguous that the opposing party cannot respond, even with a simple denial, in good faith or without prejudice to himself." Delta Educ., Inc. v. Langlois, 719 F.Supp. 42, 50 (D.N.H. 1989); Bureerong v. Uvawas, 922 F.Supp. 1450, 1461 (C.D. Cal. 1996) (“[A] motion for a more definite statement should not be granted unless the defendant literally cannot frame a responsive pleading.”).

III.

SPENCER FAILS TO ALLEGE ANY CLAIMS AGAINST FIRST FEDERAL UPON WHICH THIS COURT CAN GRANT RELIEF

Spencer makes a litany of allegations against First Federal which are wholly

1 irrelevant and nonsensical. Claims which are factually or legally impossible for a pro se
 2 plaintiff to prove are properly terminated, as "a court may dismiss a pro se litigant's
 3 complaint without leave to amend if it appears beyond a doubt that the plaintiff can prove 4 no set of facts that would entitle him to relief and this defect cannot be cured by 5 amendment." Moore v. United States, 193 F.R.D. 647, 651 (N.D. Cal. 2000).

6 Here, Spencer's Complaint seeks relief under a multitude of seemingly unrelated
 7 statutes and legal theories. Moreover, from the Complaint it is impossible to determine 8 what relief Spencer is even requesting. Quite simply, the papers are incomprehensible and 9 it is impossible for the Court or the Defendants to discern the basis for Spencer's lawsuit.
 10 Accordingly, First Federal respectfully requests that this Court dismiss Spencer's
 11 Complaint in its entirety. Furthermore, because the Complaint is so replete with nonsense, 12 Spencer cannot amend the Complaint to articulate a claim for relief and this Court should 13 dismiss the Complaint with prejudice.

14 IV.

15 THE TRUSTEE'S DEED UPON SALE EXTINGUISHED ALL JUNIOR LIENS

16 It is well-established that a foreclosure sale extinguishes all junior liens on a 17 property. "What is sold by judicial foreclosure is the property owner's interest in the 18 property at the time of the mortgage or deed of trust being foreclosed. The judicial sale 19 removes liens from the property junior to the one being foreclosed." Sumitomo Bank v.
 20 Davis (1992) 4 Cal.App.4th 1306, 1314. Additionally, the resulting trustee's deed is free
 21 and clear of all subsequent or subordinate encumbrances and interests. Carpenter v.
 22 Smallpage (1934) 220 Cal 129. The title is also free and clear of the interest of the owner
 23 or his or her successor since that interest is foreclosed by the sale. Hohn v. Riverside
 24 County Flood Control & Water Conservation Dist. (1964) 228 Cal App 2d 605, 613.

25 As set forth above, First Federal completed a non-judicial foreclosure of the 26 Property on June 17, 2007. (RJN, Ex "C"). As a result of the foreclosure, First Federal 27 acquired title to the Property. As a further result, all junior liens on the Property were 28

1 extinguished. This means that any attempts to transfer or encumber the Property before
 2 the sale were extinguished as a result of the sale. While public records show that Spencer
 3 recorded a deed of trust naming himself as the trustor and Seminole Mortgages as 4 beneficiary, the deed of trust is "null and void" because it occurred after the sale, and after 5 title had become vested in First Federal. (See Deed of Trust, RJN, Ex. "M"; Furthermore,
 6 First Federal has already completed unlawful detainer proceedings and obtained a Writ of 7 Possession to the Property, thereby demonstrating that it is the lawful owner Property.
 8 (See RJN, Ex. "N".) Accordingly, Spencer cannot make any lawful claim of ownership or 9 possession of the Property.

10
 11 V.

12 CONCLUSION

13 First Federal respectfully requests that this Court dismiss the Complaint filed by 14 Spencer in its entirety. The Complaint fails to articulate a single cognizable basis for 15 relief. Further, because the Complaint cannot possibly state a claim, the Complaint should 16 be dismissed with prejudice.
